

Customer Success Executive

REQUIREMENT SUMMARY ABOUT THE ROLE

We're looking for someone who gets things done — period. As a Customer Success Executive at NCG, you'll manage a high-impact engagement with one of our key banking clients, making sure everything runs smoothly on the ground. This isn't a hand-holding role. We need someone who takes ownership, figures things out, and doesn't wait to be told twice. If you've thrived in a fast-paced startup and love the energy of making things work from scratch — this one's for you.

WHAT YOU'LL OWN

- Be the primary point of contact for the client and all users on the platform
- Onboard new users and make sure they're set up and confident from day one
- Handle support queries end-to-end — you pick it up, you close it
- Coordinate between internal teams and the client to resolve issues fast
- Track open items, follow up relentlessly, and ensure nothing slips
- Maintain clear records of interactions, escalations, and resolutions

WHAT WE'RE LOOKING FOR

- Expertise in any client-facing or coordination role
- Startup experience strongly preferred — you know what it means to wear multiple hats
- No specific industry background needed — we'll teach you everything
- Strong communicator — clear, confident, and warm with people
- Obsessively organised with an eye for detail
- Takes every open task as a personal responsibility to close

YOU'RE THE RIGHT FIT IF YOU

- Hate leaving things half-done — closure is not optional for you
- Get energised by a busy day, not drained by it
- Take initiative without needing to be asked — you see a gap and you fill it
- Are comfortable with ambiguity and can figure things out on the go
- Genuinely enjoy working with people and making their experience smooth
